The much loved 'Every Greyhound has a Story' video series, which documented ten different greyhound tales, has come to an end.

A story on the somewhat famous Fred Basset, who was once owned by radio duo Hamish & Andy, kicked off the series, while a video on the Greyhound Adoption Program's (GAP) headquarters in Seymour has wrapped it up.

In 2014, GAP in conjunction with Greyhound Racing Victoria launched a photographic exhibition titled 'Every Greyhound has a Story', which was showcased in galleries throughout the state. Most recently, many of these stories were brought to life through an emotive video series which has been displayed on both GAP and GRV websites.

The GAP headquarters in Seymour has been in operation since 2004 where thousands of greyhounds are temporarily housed before they find their forever home.

There is also a smaller facility in Baxter, while Mount Mercer is set to home a building for assessments.

Anyone who wishes to put their greyhound through GAP is encouraged to prepare it for the program by carefully socialising it with other dog breeds, and train it to be part of a household.

Every video in the series can be found at <http://gap.grv.org.au/every-greyhound-has-a-story-archive/> or you can visit gap.grv.org.au to find out more on the program.
