Metro Festival of Racing to kick off on massive Hume Cup night

Monday 2 November is not just Hume Cup night, it is also the first day of Victorian greyhound racing's Metropolitan Festival of Racing.

The 2020 Metro Festival of Racing brings together fantastic racing across two of Australia's premier racing venues – The Meadows and Sandown Park – with almost $2 million in prize money to be shared across five incredible nights of action including 10 group races.

*Refer to the table below for a detailed list of the 10 group races.

The Meadows has turned Cup Eve into a wagering stronghold, with the Group 1 Hume Cup (600m) and Group 3 RSN Silver Bullet (525m) providing plenty of betting interest on the night before Victoria's biggest horse race.

Four heats of the Hume Cup were conducted on AFL Grand Final night (24 October), with the winners and second placegetters in each heat qualifying for Monday night's $108,000 Final, to be run at 8.46pm.

Former NSW greyhound Zipping Zeek was the fastest heat winner in 34.10sec, followed by Last Hurrah, who stretched his winning streak to six when clocking 34.15sec.

Both greyhounds will provide their respective young trainers Ned McDonald, 20, and Brett Nye, 29, with their first group win if successful. First prize is $75,000.

The $35,500 RSN Silver Bullet, to be run at 8.06pm, will be a fascinating race with three group winners drawn side by side.

Four-time Group 1 winner Simon Told Helen (6), Group 2 Shepparton Cup champ Hard Style Rico (7) and recent Group 3 TAB Great Chase victor Dr. Tucker (8) are set for a ding-dong battle for the $25,000 first prize.
