

Terms of Reference – Racing Reference Group

Purpose

The Racing Reference Group enables GRV to gain a better understanding of Racing related matters. The proposed forum will provide an opportunity for GRV to have an ongoing dialogue with participants while also providing an effective channel to raise issues of importance.

Background

GRV has been actively engaging with the industry, and participants through its various workshop programs and the Industry Consultative Group (ICG). Through the ongoing engagement with participants and key stakeholders, GRV sees real benefits in gaining access to industry-based experience and expertise particularly with respect to the preparation and training of Racing greyhounds.

It is intended to establish a specific reference group on Racing to gain regular input from industry participants.

The Racing Reference Group will be operational in nature. Matters of new policy would continue to be provided to the ICG for their input prior to Board deliberations.

Membership

GRV is inviting participants to become members of the Racing Reference Group through expressions of interest via the GRV website, and is actively seeking nominations from participants who have relevant expertise and experience, and are prepared to commit to regularly meeting with GRV.

The Racing Reference Group will comprise of up to 10 members.

Representative attributes should include participants who are comfortable with speaking openly, constructively and be able to commit to meeting quarterly. It is expected that each representative will have the capability to represent their participant segment, in addition to their own interests, with an appreciation for what is likely to be in the best of interests of the industry as a whole, while considering both the immediate needs and longer-term outlook.

Roles and Responsibilities

Members of the Racing reference group must undertake to:

- Contribute ideas with the potential to improve and enhance the racing of greyhounds;
- Represent their participant segment groups relating to Racing;
- Understand the Greyhound Racing Industry's challenges and opportunities for Racing;
- Prepare appropriately for meetings (pre-read, engage with colleagues, research), although this will not be onerous and should be no more than a few hours for each meeting.

Participants can use the forum to:

- propose and discuss ideas and proposals;
- provide feedback in relation to GRV's regulation, policy and procedures;
- raise and discuss topical issues or concerns;
- participate in the development of requirements for systems and process change.

Meeting Format, Frequency & Logistics

Meetings will initially be held quarterly and will be focused on key agenda items to keep the forums effective and relevant, while formalities will be kept to minimum. Key actions arising from meetings will be documented and provide a basis for follow-up at the subsequent meeting(s).

Meetings will be either held in person or via online meeting software such as Zoom.

Meetings will be chaired by the General Manager of Racing or their appointed delegate.

Funding

Materials, Venue and Refreshments for each meetings / forum will be funded by GRV.

Membership of the Reference Group is not a paid position, so participants will not be paid to attend. The reference group members will need to travel to the venues at their own cost.
